Jackie by Mr Blue Sky

A lounge in sleek design with a fresh and trendy look. Chilling out on the water on an equally fine specimen in balmy temperatures. Why not combine both, Mr Blue Sky thought, and this unique concept was named 'Jackie', a floating lounge with a matching cocktail table. The Belgium-based company says Jackie is an aesthetically pleasing alternative to the inflatable air mattress. With a matching foot base, Jackie is transformed into a trendy lounge with side table. Mr Blue Sky uses modern and advanced composite materials resistant to sun, salt, chlorine, oil and sunscreen products. In order to meet the specific requirements for outdoor furniture.

Ultra-Slim Glass Helm

Applied Marine Automation has unveiled the latest in its range of command consoles, the ultra-slim, floating glass Blade, a modern, minimalist design. Blade provides a video wall view of all the vessel's systems. A user interface maximises the touchscreen controls so there is no need to navigate dozens of pages. All key systems are available on the one page with pop-ups for alarms and secondary functions. Design Director Gifford Hooper said, "We want to demonstrate how helm design can be ultra-modern and offer the ultimate in convenience for a superyacht captain. The floating concept can be adapted to any boat's interior design and having all your systems available at a glance significantly improves ease of use for safe pilotage."

Feadship Orders for AntiRoll

DSM Holland received an order for an AntiRoll system for the 50m Feadship 'Endless Summer', which will set sail this summer. Plus, during METS, DMS Holland received an order for Kuriakost, the 33m motor yacht being built by Koninklijke De Vries Scheepsbouw (Feadship). Co-owner and commercial director of DMS Holland Patrick

Noor: "These results are of course better than expected... It is clear: the market is open to innovation.

It started, incidentally, with the shipyard Wim van der Valk. They were absolutely the 'innovator' and catalyst for AntiRoll. Van der Valk is committed to technology and innovation and had confidence in AntiRoll from the very beginning."

100m plus Custom Projects for Marquip

Marquip has two 100m-plus projects currently underway. The company has devised custom exhaust systems for two very different projects. Project One will utilise a traditional set up, with each generator equipped with a soot particle filter system and a single outlet up the mast. Project Two is even more customised, with three different outlets to choose from. Both projects demonstrate Marquip's versatility. "At Marquip innovation never stands still," said Dennis Bravenboer, General Manager Sales. "We ensure we are always ahead of the technology in our industry to make sure our clients are too."
